Medicine is a sacred Duty

Hippocrates

HIPPOCRATES: With the Holy Grace, oh Lord, I assume my high duties for the salvation of the human race. First, though, I would like that the world of ignorance (and I mean the world of the earthly wisdom), pays close attention to what I have to say.

The art of medicine is not just an art; it is first of all a sacred duty. If the doctor does not have the strength to go after the diseases as a hunter, he should better follow another profession.

Medicine is directly tied to the Deity. Self-interest should not interfere with medicine.

Medicine is the only science, which is sacred. Whoever takes advantage of a poor person, of a person unable to pay his dues or benefits from the attraction of the women for his own pleasure, he sins as the worse of the sinners.

Doctors have the obligation to heal, even if that means putting their own lives at risk. Doctors should have no interest in profit and they should not succumb to the various pleasures of man. They should be moderate, they should seek all that is beneficial and they should fight against all that is harmful. They should give advises and they should help those who suffer. If these virtues are not applied, then a doctor is not a doctor but a merchant of souls. He trades with something that does not belong to him and he will give account in the Divine Inquisition.

If humanity today has problems finding the antidotes, this is only due to the materialistic profiting of the so-called doctor, who, despite his deceitful knowledge, he is incapable of doing good to humanity.

I will help only the few, the able, the real doctors of the Divine Enlightenment. Only to them I will give the light. All others, who will try to steal this right, I am forced by the Divine Principle to render them totally incapable, so that they are destroyed by their own sins.

Thank you, Lord, for the new force, which enters from this time on into the spotlight of the necessity. Thank you.

Natural Phenomena

Confucius

CONFUCIUS: You mortals, after long investigation of natural phenomena, have acquired the habit of giving, according to your discernment, explanations about these things that derive from your observation and your imagination. The result is that for phenomena such as thunder, lightning, earthquakes, tempests, bad weather, heat and cold, you have formed mistaken ideas. Why?

Because you are not enlightened by Our Cause. You have for example measured the possible central heat of your Earth and you forecast everything in accordance with the law of probabilities - that your Earth, for instance, will retain its heat for so many centuries to come! How have you reached this conclusion, since no man has ever penetrated into the bowels of the Earth? I mention this, because research from a distance is always fallacious.

You are fully aware, that in an enclosed space, fire without oxygen cannot endure. How, therefore, in the bowels of the Earth, has the life-giving fire of the Earth's bowels, endured for countless centuries? This is the question.

The thunderbolt is a positive force and is attracted by the negative force of the Earth. What happens to the thunderbolt? As an electro-dynamic flash it penetrates into the insulated magazines of the Earth, to be found at an enormous depth, and there protected. When the Leaders of the Spiritual World, unite the positive energy of the thunderbolt with the negative energy of Earth, an explosion is created, together with new fire for the renewal of the heat of the bowels of the Earth. Otherwise fire would have disappeared a long while ago from the bowels of the Earth, where there is no oxygen.

Do not have the idea, then, that you have investigated everything.

You have toiled greatly in order to reach a single conclusion. But is this conclusion right? Who will give you the correct answer? Man? He, on investigating, will fall into the same error because his brains are earthly and his mind is limited, while the Heavenly Teachers have limitless knowledge about every subject, unknown to your comprehension.

We have given explanations of many phenomena many years ago, but there are others of which we will give the explanation at a later date. The more simple of them, which are daily visible to your eyes but which remain unobserved at certain points of your solar system, have not yet been explained by anyone. Why?

Because the spirit of man cannot grasp the meaning of values and for this reason is not capable of penetrating the unknown mysteries of life. Learn first to believe and then to investigate if you wish to become effective and invaluable scientists.

Chronos (Time)

Pharah

PHARAH: As you know, Cronus or Chronos (Time) – according to mythology – was devouring his children. The reason is unknown to those who realize the images of the myth. Indeed, Chronos is eating his children because he measures their existence, so that he can extinguish them at the appropriate moment.

It is terrible for a father not to have affection and love towards his children! It is not out of necessity that he extinguishes them; the disappearance of his children is prearranged. Many people cannot understand this but today it can be understood. Each Entity appears on your world with a determined lifetime. Whatever you do, whatever means you use, it is impossible for you to break the Law of the Time of the life of the entities.

Eating means I make disappear; whereas the meaning is different: I withdraw him (the entity) from the Earth, in order to train him better in Heaven and to present him back on Earth superior, for the completion of his shortcomings. Therefore, the disappearance of the entity is necessary, so much for the entity itself as for the Divine Economy.

Time does not exist in Heaven. It is annulled. Only on Earth it is measured by man, without the latter knowing why he keeps the measure. Because it is from this measure that man will receive the average on all his actions, in other words by enlightenment he will understand that all things have their measure; they are balanced so that people find their way back to their starting point easier.

The image of the mythology is inhuman; the explanation of Heaven, however, is saving to man. Time is necessary for the human intellect. Within time all things are defined but this is not enough when man does not realize the measure of time and then he comes and goes in vain, so that he delays his progress in the scale of the ascension of the Entities.

Time scares us, so that we hurry up our actions before he closes his door to the departing entity. The premonition of the fleeing Time stimulates man and he is rushing to obtain what he wishes; but this is not his destination and this is why time devours him. Mythology has deep meanings, which man does not explain because he does not understand them. He lacks Divine Light.

Charos (Death) has been personified. It is an order for the interruption of the life of an entity. This order is brought by an Angel and the Psyche (Soul) obeys. If the Spirit rejects, the entity suffers for a long time until it is forced to leave Earth and account for not obeying to the call of the Angel and then a dialogue between the Conscience and the Spirit takes place. The Conscience refutes all the arguments of the Spirit. The entity assumes its number and it is transferred to the Transit Center. There it will receive the proper place of its conviction. If, however, the Spirit does not object, then the deceased body leaves traces of elation and happiness on its face because it will appear before the Conscience without any coloration and it will return to the Transit Center in order to receive its reward and assume the place that was specified by the Conscience. All these are taking place with great accuracy because all things move within harmony.

Hades is the Spiritual World. Cerberus is the “Reformation Zone” of the “Barrier of Forgetfulness”. Nobody can go through this barrier if he does not leave behind his old memory for another one and vice versa. If the entity cannot forget the Earth and is nostalgic of it, then the Spirit is revolting; it hovers in Heaven. It cannot go back to Earth because the attraction of the Transit Center is most powerful. By regretting and after many wanderings, the entity comes into the Center and follows the same procedure like all the souls that have left the Earth.

I give the most important points of the Heavenly Kingdom for the completion of your knowledge.

The Fourth Dimension

Maeterlinck

MAURICE MAETERLINCK: Once, my dear brethren, I conceived the fourth Dimension. Of course, I defined it according to my intellect. The fourth Dimension is a “spaceless space” where time is nullified. Therefore, time does not exist there.

It is the ether, where all souls – i.e. the entities without a body – accumulate. From this point in space, which nobody will ever be able to determine, the Spirits talk to their brother people on Earth. It is impossible for me to describe this Kingdom because there are more issues than there are books in your world to describe them. I only give you some drops of knowledge from the Ocean. Consider yourselves lucky because your whole World lacks this knowledge of Heaven.

All people are interested in their friendly Souls, hoping that they will achieve something in their Earthly lives if these friendly Souls help. They do not understand that they can acquire everything on Earth but they will take nothing with them when the time of their recall comes. I am speaking to you from the Center of the Spiritual Sun or Splendor. You, my dear, comment and explain the natural phenomena in your way and prove the validity of your explanation! How erroneously you judge! All these take place in a different way, which you are unable to imagine because you do not believe certain points of our Texts, considering them as “plausible myths”. If, however, you become well versed in these texts, then you will have the True Light as your Partner, and then you will be certain about the truth of what we transmit.

The purpose of the appearance of the Lord Moses

MOSES: There is so much spiritual darkness in the brains of men, so that they do not know for which purpose the Lord appeared and taught the existence of the soul and the immortality of His Psychic Kingdom.

The Lord, my dear brethren, was a Soul like your own; in other words, one of your Brothers with awareness of His Mission in your World. He held the highest position in Heaven and he preferred to incarnate and as a plain man to teach you, to inform you and to guide you through the darkness into the bright avenue that leads the souls to the Kingdom of Immortality.

In order for Him to achieve His purpose, He had to be condemned as innocent and thus raise the spirits of Justice, Love and Solidarity against those, who, through their dark conscience committed hideous crimes against the majority.

A lot of people suffered a death worse than the Lord's but the Lord - as he said - had the purpose to set the foundations for a true Faith in the One and Unknown to all God and Creator of the Worlds.

The foundation, therefore, of the Lord upon the Faith, is an undoubted and a historical fact. Where Christianity sowed, there the Spirit found a fertile ground for cultivation. Unfortunately, when man is elevated spiritually, he easily forgets Him, Who gave him the spirit for Enlightenment and not for material cultivation.

Today, you ought to cultivate your inner man, if you have higher knowledge and you balance this with your psychic strength. Only in this way you will be able to find the purpose, for which the Lord descended from Heaven.

I also wanted once to set the foundations for the same Work but I was not the appropriate one. I did not possess His calmness; I did not have so much Love as He had for man, neither His psychic Charisma. For this I suffered, because I did not bring into completion what I thought I could. I paid for my mission in the Spiritual World by being isolated and only lately I atoned and undertook a bright position, thanks to the Lord and to the Light-giver Star of the Spirit, Archon Pharah. These two pleaded to the First Cause and I was relieved from the annoying bonds of isolation.

I am grateful and full of dedication to the Great Leader. Why you, the little ones, who do not know anything about the endless Knowledge, do not recognize the Benefactor and Savior of your souls? Isn't this a mistake of your bad enlightenment? What hinders you from embracing Him as Guide and believe in him with all your might? If you did this, automatically the faucets of Knowledge would open and New Light, this time Divine, would overtake everyone in the circle of love and understanding.

Many Angels that never incarnated do not dare ask for incarnation, in case they commit the same mistake as I did; because, brethren, I was also once an Angel of Heaven.

For the first time I recount unknown aspects of my entity. Here we are all good and dedicated to our Work and we have the impression that, by coming back, we are able to do the best. Unfortunately, the truth is different. Matter has a thousand forms of attraction and none of us knows which of these forms will subjugate us.

The only thing I gave to man is the Commandments of the Lord; and these, not how the Lord indicated them to me; for this reason they were complemented by His Son, Who was justly called the Son of the First Cause. He is the Only One, Who directly receives Commandments from the All-Merciful and conveys them to His Kingdom. There He distributes them to the specialist Leaders, Sub-Leaders, etc.

In rare cases the First Cause acts directly; very rarely. He acts through the Word, Which transforms whatever is difficult and thorny into their exact opposites.

The Angels of the Governing Principle have greater authority when coming from Earth, because they have gone through Temptation into the path of rightness and they have won a special reward from the Lord.

There are too many Angels that have not known your Earth; their psychic strength kept them near the First Cause. They do not all have the same strength, however. They lack behind in spiritual enlightenment. For this reason they receive orders and transmit them from one corner of the Heavenly Kingdom to the other.

I will also say something else: The Universe is endless; it is a Chaos, inconceivable in the Infinity. All the stars that are within the Universe are related to each other, so that everything moves in harmony inside the endless Kingdom of Immortality.

There is also another Universe. It is not related to the Universe we are talking about. Its stars are again related and thus the Seven Universes are complemented. Now you realize that the human mind is incapable of conceiving the extent, which is endless.

The Seven Universes are related to each other, as seven different vast Universes. This is a relation of number and not of one Universe affecting the other. These numbers are concentrated in the Axis of the Volition of the Divine and they rotate, so that one Universe takes over the space - let me say - of the other Universe in an unknown time. This is done so that there is Universal harmony and new Creation of Worlds, in the vastness of the inconceivable Knowledge of the Lord.

I name the Seven Universes as: The vastness of the Creation, inside the Unknown Logos. And you - I mean the imbecile ones - rule out the Concept of God? Since the Lord has taught you about the existence of the Invisible World, how blind must man be to not have a wide perception about the existence of the Deity! And when I say Deity I mean Lord Jesus Christ, the Only begotten Son of the First Cause and Great Leader of the Spiritual World.

The spirit of the ancient Greeks encloses values of heaven

Archimedes

ARCHIMEDES: I come for the first time. Man's inner world was unknown to me. Here I studied next to the Notorious Spirits of the Heavenly Parnassus and I was enlightened enough, so that a new world appears in my psychic eye.

When, brethren, our forefathers said that the world consists of 4 elements, they were absolutely right. Even today, Science does not accept this saying because it is blind.

If people abided by the rules given by Heaven for everybody, then, through this road, many unsolved problems would be solved.

Fire is an essential element; through this, motion in the whole Universe is created. The elements which were given by the distant ancestors of the Greeks are values of Heaven. Their meanings are energies and nothing is moved without energy; nothing would have existed.

The unlearned people criticize the wise men and so they are doubly unlearned.

When Prometheus stole the fire-spark, what did this mean?

It meant Life.

If, therefore, fire did not exist, your today wise men would not be able to criticize everything rotten that is inspired in them by the Evil Spirit.

The knowledge of the ancients is unimaginable. Nobody until now was able to penetrate into the depths of their concepts. They all wander around and they seek wisdom in matter. Their material interest, however, has blinded them. For this reason, the mechanical progress has become the grave of their knowledge.

I am a specialist in matters of mechanics, which I combine with the out-worldly knowledge and thus I comprehend the depth of the soul, i.e. man's inner world.

Another time I will narrate to you my ordeals in the Land of the Atlanteans because, as you know, I pre-existed and I was one of the biggest wise-men of that time. Nobody else but me can express a clear opinion about the sunk continent. I will enlighten you on this matter.

Sacrifice liberates the brethren

Gandhi

GANDHI: For someone to sacrifice himself, my brethren, for the common good is a rare thing in the present age. I say rare, because there are many who sacrifice themselves out of fanaticism, whether national, religious or ideological, but not humanistic.

The sacrifice of a great benefactor of humanity is a sacred duty, but the person who sacrifices himself does not proceed to apply his work within the intention of being sacrificed; if this were not the case no work would be achieved by him. Yet he takes into account that a sacrilegious hand may take away his life at the moment when he is in full action. There cannot be many such benefactors of humanity, because they enter the great arena of humanity by Divine Grace; and up to a certain point they renew the current of humanism.

He who established the core of Love for his neighbour was One and unique. No one else can replace Him, because He had the continual guidance of His Father, conveyed through the Leader of the Spiritual Administration.

When man is incarnated as an earthly being he cannot remember anything of the Heavenly Kingdom. His spirit, even if it possesses remnants of the images of Heaven, cannot reveal them to the public. It is for this reason that he does not express himself, for he exists at the stage of an infant. With the passage of time and with the learning of his mother tongue, he forgets everything completely, and other images, earthly this time, occupy his attention.

Only one exception has existed, and this was that of the Lord from the age at which He became aware of the world about Him. The Light continually and with intensity transmitted to Him the life of Heaven. The greatest sacrifice that has ever taken place in your world was that of the Lord. All the others who sacrificed themselves on behalf of the general good were assistants of the core and of the liberator of the soul. When sacrifice is sacred it is also divine. But the human mind cannot grasp this by means of spiritual education alone, without Heavenly enlightenment.

It is distressing when a benefactor is sacrificed leaving his work half completed, leaving a gap that cannot be filled. This, however, is due to one of the Celestial Laws, which sees further into the activity of God. Sacrifice is the honour of the being in the Heavens. You die for a sacred purpose, without being aware of it, in order to acquire the crown of divine glory, without expecting it.
